Q1. Read the given paragraph and find answers of the following questions. [1x2=2]

Africa was home to the quagga, a kind of zebra that had a partially striped coat. It was hunted to extinction for its hide. In the USA, the passenger pigeons were hunted to extinction for their meat, and the Carolina parakeet, for its beautiful feathers. The Asiatic cheetah is no longer found in the wild in India, where hunting and the clearing of grasslands for farming wiped it out. It is still found in small numbers in Iran.
